

UNIVERSITY OF CALGARY

THE 2014 UNIVERSITY OF CALGARY CONFERENCE ON POSTSECONDARY LEARNING AND TEACHING

Call for Proposals

May 13 and 14, 2014

MacEwan Hall, University of Calgary, Calgary, Alberta CANADA

ASSESSMENT: MOTIVATING, SUPPORTING AND EVALUATING LEARNING

Deadline for submitting proposals: March 3, 2014

Students and professors frequently report that the assessment of student learning is the most challenging aspect of their teaching – and learning – experiences. At the same time, research on learning indicates that well-integrated assessments contribute in critical ways to successful learning outcomes through the impact they have on motivation, engagement, feedback, and depth of learning. The 2014 University of Calgary Conference on Postsecondary Learning and Teaching will provide an opportunity to share expertise on how we leverage the benefits of effective assessment practice to achieve not only more effective evaluation, but also more successful learning experiences.

Academic staff, students and everyone who contributes to the assessment of student learning, are invited to share the approaches to assessment that have the greatest impact in their own teaching contexts. How can we foster critical reflection and self-assessment of learning among our students?

Keynote Presentation: Dr. David A. Green, Director of the Center for Faculty Development Seattle University, WA. Fair judgment? Faculty preconceptions of student success.

For Conference details and How to Submit a Proposal visit:

www.tlc.ucalgary.ca/conf2014

We look forward to your proposal submission. If you have any questions contact:

Dr. Cheryl L Jeffs, Educational Development Consultant
Taylor Institute for Teaching and Learning
University of Calgary
2500 University Drive NW
Calgary AB, Canada T2N 1N4

Tel: 403 220 5868

Email: ti.conference@ucalgary.ca